Do you have control of your Office 365 data? Do you have access to all the items you need? The knee-jerk reaction is typically, "Of course I do," or "Microsoft takes care of it all." But thinking about it, can you really be sure? Microsoft takes care of quite a bit and provides a great service to their customers. However, Microsoft's primary focus is on managing the Office 365 technology infrastructure and ensuring service availability for its users. Microsoft empowers YOU, the user with the responsibility of your data. The misconception that Microsoft fully backs up your data on your behalf is quite common, and without a shift in mindset, could have damaging repercussions when this responsibility is left unattended.

The misunderstanding occurs between Microsoft's perceived and assumed responsibility and the user's actual responsibility for the protection and long-term retention of their Office 365 data. The backup and recoverability that Microsoft provides and what users assume they are getting are often different. Meaning, aside from the standard precautions Office 365 has in place, you may need to re-assess the level of backups and control you require.

Strategix in collaboration with Veeam and Azure have the perfect cloud solution in resolution of these issues and in mitigation of any associated risks.

The Veeam Backup and restore for Microsoft Office 365 to Azure is offered by Strategix as a comprehensive, managed services solution that allows you to back-up and restore data of your Microsoft Office 365 environment, including Microsoft Exchange, Microsoft SharePoint, Microsoft OneDrive for Business and Microsoft Teams data, as well as data of on-premises Microsoft Exchange and on-premises Microsoft SharePoint data sources.

The Strategix Veeam and Azure Backup & Replication (ABR) Cloud Solution enables you to mark the data for immutability from the extents of the repositories making this data secure and this is done for increased security. Immutability protects your data from any losses as result of attacks, malware activity or any other injurious actions. All data backed-up by the ABR Cloud Solution will be automatically prioritised and allocated for long-term retention.

Do yourself a favour, take the time to have a closer look for there are security gaps you may not have been aware of before. You have already made a smart business decision by deploying Microsoft Office 365, now protect and bolster your investment by implementing a secure back-up and recovery solution that offers you both complete access and complete control of your Office 365 data, avoiding the risk of data loss.

Strategix is the first and only local Cloud Provider in South Africa to have incorporated this Veeam Microsoft Office365 backup and restore managed service into Azure, available to all partners and customers.

Let's get you started!
