Our extensive experience, coupled with a robust engagement methodology, sets us apart in the industry. Here's why choosing Strategix is the best decision for your VMware infrastructure project, support and maintenance needs:

The Value of a Premier Partner

As a VMware Premier Partner, Strategix offers unparalleled expertise and a deep understanding of VMware solutions. Premier Partners are recognised for their extensive technical capabilities, advanced certifications, and proven customer success. This status ensures that customers receive the highest level of service and support, leveraging best practices and innovative solutions to maximise their VMware investment. Strategix is committed to delivering exceptional value through its expert team and comprehensive service offerings.

VMWARE CERTIFICATION

Strategix prides itself on having a highly skilled team of technical consultants who hold a variety of VMware certifications. These certifications validate their expertise and ensure that we can deliver exceptional support and services for your VMware infrastructure. The VCP certification validates a consultant's skills in configuring, managing, and optimising VMware solutions.

VMware Certified Professional (VCP)

(Our team hold 33 x VCP certifications)

Expertise in deploying and managing VMware vSphere environments.

Skills in implementing and managing VMware NSX environments.

Proficiency in automating cloud infrastructure using VMware Aria.

Knowledge in modernising applications with VMware Tanzu.

VMware Certified Advanced Professional (VCAP)

(Our team hold 5 x VCAP certifications)

Advanced capabilities in designing and deploying complex vSphere environments, covering compute, storage, networking, and security.

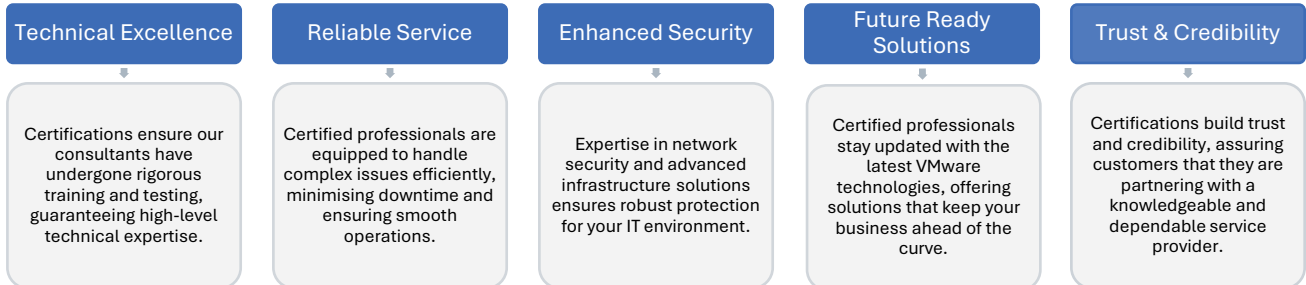

Expertise in designing VMware NSX solutions, including network security and integration with other technologies.

Importance of VMware Certifications

VMware certifications are critical markers of a service provider's technical proficiency and reliability. Here's why customers should value these certifications:

VMWARE COMPETENCIES

We hold several VMware competencies demonstrating our ability to deliver expert-level services across various VMware solutions. These competencies are a testament to Strategix's proficiency in delivering tailored VMware solutions that meet the highest standards of quality and performance. Here's why choosing a partner with these competencies is beneficial:

Assured Expertise:

- VMware competencies validate our consultants possess the necessary skills and knowledge to manage complex VMware environments, ensuring reliable and efficient service delivery.
